Music Program Director & Organist

First Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)
512 West Main Street
Madison, Indiana 47250

Part-Time Position Available July 1, 2025

Salary range is $16,000-$20,000 based on experience with two weeks paid vacation time and flexible work hours.

General Position Expectations and Community Details

Administers and produces all aspects of music for the worship services. This position includes arranging for special music, leading hymn-sing style services, directing a small choir, participating in worship planning. Music Program Director is expected to be available on Sundays and within reasonable means as needed for special services, wedding, funerals, and other music related church events. The senior minister supervises this position.

We are a small historic church in downtown Madison, Indiana. Our congregation is an accepting group of people who seek to build faith and strengthen relationships within the tradition of The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). We have a traditional weekly worship service on Sunday mornings that includes hymns (primarily from the Chalice Hymnal), prelude and postlude, meditation music, and some choir participation accompanied by organ and piano. We are open to innovative worship which can complement a traditional worship service. First Christian Church is home to a regularly maintained 15-rank 1992 Temple pipe organ, a Baldwin grand piano, and a 3-octave Schulmerich handbell set.

Desired Expertise

- Organization, administrative, and leadership skills
- Effective interpersonal and communication skills
- Understanding of traditional worship services and the Liturgical calendar
- Conducting a choir
- Piano Skills
- Preferred: Ability to play the pipe Organ

- St. Michael the Archangel

519 E Third St. Owned & Operated by Historic Madison, Inc. 812-265-2967 Availability Year Round
Check the website, www.historicmadisoninc.com, or call for the tour schedule. Admission is $10 for adults; students/children/HMI Members are free

Inspired by heaven and hewn from the earth, St. Michael's unique design embodies the dreams of immigrants for a better life now and in the world to come. Originally completed in 1839, this building is one of the oldest structures built as a Catholic Church in Indiana. It is the oldest Gothic-Revival building in Indiana and is especially notable for its pointed arch windows. The building was used as a Catholic Church until 1993 when the Indianapolis Archdiocese donated the building to Historic Madison, Inc. as part of the parish consolidation. Historic Madison, Inc. continues to preserve and protect the building as it has for more than 30 years.

Called the "best of the best" of America's Greek Revival buildings, the Shrewsbury-Windle House features a soaring 3-story spiral staircase, 16-foot ceilings, intricate plaster moldings, and ornately carved stone details. Built 175 years ago by architect Francis Costigan the 13-room mansion features perhaps the most original pre-Civil War Drawing Rooms in the US. The Shrewsbury, Walker, and Windle families lived here for 160 years. Their love for the home still radiates from the walls of this award-winning restoration.

- Walnut Street Fire Museum

808 Walnut St., (812) 265-3762

Donations accepted. The former Walnut Street Fire Company building, which was in use until the early 1960s, is now home to a collection that features fire-fighting equipment from the mid-1800s, including horsedrawn and human-drawn vehicles, hoses, nozzles and hydrants. The museum is operated by Frank Taff, a member of the Walnut Street Fire Company for more than 40 years. This property is open by appointment only.
